Safety Committee Newsletter

Safe Jobsite of the Month:
Carleton College

Discussions at Meeting:

Jobsite Awareness

Not only is it important that we implement and follow Olympics' safety procedures, but we also need to constantly be aware of our surroundings while working around other subs on our jobsites. The committee brainstormed why some of these accidents may have happened and how they could have been prevented. Here are some examples that may assist you in preventing our next injury as we begin to wrap up 2019:

1. Before we begin work, make sure we stretch & discuss with the foreman how they want us to work safely.
2. Make sure you use personal protective equipment (PPE)
3. While you are working, be aware of any changes in the area – other trades coming into your work area.
4. Keep your work area clean and organized.
5. Document near misses - investigate to see what we could do better to avoid similar circumstances that put us at risk and then educate our crews.

Monthly Safety Suggestion

Topic:

What are some suggestions for our next Safety Award?

Winner: Maurice Lopez @ LifeTime

Maurice suggested that we split the money into larger value gift cards or prizes.

Safety Committee agreed! We will be randomly drawing 20 names of those employees who qualified. Each winner is receiving a $500 Visa Gift Card!

Thank you for your continued commitment to safety!

Weekly Payday

PLEASE remember that our regularly scheduled payday is Friday.

Here at Olympic Companies we are accustomed to seeing our direct deposit available in our bank account each Thursday.

When your check is available to you on Thursday, this is only perk. Again, Olympic has until 5:00 pm on Friday for your funds to be available.

Any questions, please call the office 952-546-8166.

Work Attendance

Your attendance and punctuality are essential for efficient jobsite operations. If you know you are going to be absent or late, make every effort to contact your Foreman ASAP. When you are sent to a new project you are given that Foreman's name and phone number. Enter that information into your phone so you have it with you at all times. If you haven't made arrangements with your Foreman to be off work, please contact your General Supt.
